ENEMY LINES ARE CLOSE TOGETHER ALONG THE PAVE

War Correspondent Talked In Whispers to Observation Party Near Front Lines

RIVER SEEMS INADEQUATE BARRIER TO AUSTRIANS

Refugees Seeking Safety In Rear of Italian Army— Towns Are Deserted

(Associated Press Telegram) Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Wednesday, Nov. 14.—The Italian general staff gave the first opportunity today to see the Piave battle front and the correspondent was among the first four civilians summoned to take the trip. It came at an opportune moment when the enemy had succeeded in getting within 100 yards of the river at several points and when the holding of the Piave line promised to bring the whole issue into the balance for Italy, and, to some extent, for the entire continent. An officer from the headquarters staff was in charge of the party, which gave it free access through the rear lines to the Piave where the chief points along the thirty miles of front were visible and a view obtained of the whole range of the Piave.

Some ten miles back from the river the correspondent passed through solid miles of troops, coming and going to the front. Those going to the rear were mud covered and tired but not discouraged. Those going forward appeared resolute and some were singing. Refugees stood and in ox-carts crowded the fields and roads, seeking safety from the sudden onrush of the enemy. The party passed Riese, a little hamlet where Pope Pius X was born and a small cross road church marked the place where he used to be a curate before his elevation to the papacy. As the road took place as the party passed the church, five shots were fired but the volley did not affect the soldiers. The soldiers were going to the front and the enemy was in the rear. The soldiers were going to the front and the enemy was in the rear. The soldiers were going to the front and the enemy was in the rear.

FIGHT OVER TURNS STOVE; TWO BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE

(Associated Press Telegram) Kent, Nov. 16.—Jacob Roth, Jr., and his wife were burned to death in their home here early this morning as a result of a fight between four men during which a stove was overturned. The four men are held in custody and the coroner is pending further investigation. The Roth family were in an upstairs room by the flames and from the position in which the bodies were found it was evident that Roth had made an attempt to save his wife, but failed. Firemen checked the flames and the loss on the building was small. Last night Jacob Roth, father, Jacob Roth, Sr., who was living with his son, entertained three friends at the home. While the younger Roth and his wife were upstairs early this morning the four men downstairs became engaged in a fight, one of the men admitted today, and during the battle a blazing stove was overturned. One of the three men seized the older Roth and the other three men carried him to safety. The two other men continued their struggle despite the blaze, but were finally dragged out of the house and into the street. By this time the flames had communicated to the stairway and the men could not get upstairs to help the younger Roth and his wife, who were in the room above. When the fire was under control the Roth family were found dead.

GERMANY WILL GET FOOD FROM ITALIAN PLAINS

(Associated Press Telegram) Copenhagen, Nov. 16.—Austro-Hungary and Germany are taking steps to organize a business bureau for the occupied regions of Italy. The intention is to use no time in preparing for the possibility of early hostilities on a large scale to meet the expected spring food crisis.

SCANDINAVIAN KINGS MEET FOR CONFERENCE

(Associated Press Telegram) Copenhagen, Nov. 16.—The kings of Denmark and Sweden, it is announced, will visit King Haakon of Norway at Christiansia, November 28. They will be accompanied by their respective premiers and foreign ministers.

INDICT HOSPITAL ATTENDANTS FOR PATIENT'S MURDER

(Associated Press Telegram) Cincinnati, Nov. 16.—A. L. Barlow and James E. Brown, two attendants at Longview hospital, were indicted on charges of first degree murder in a partial report made by the grand jury investigating the conditions existing at the hospital today. At the same time 100 physicians of this county were summoned to appear before Judge Nippert immediately. From these will be chosen 50 or 60 to make up a medical committee to go to the hospital at once and inspect every patient at the institution with a view of ascertaining just what treatment has been meted out to the inmates. The indictments returned today were made in connection with the death of John Hollister at Longview last week. The police allege that both Barlow and Brown had admitted beating and kicking Hollister, but each places the major blame upon the other. Numerous recitals of alleged mistreatment of patients at the hospital continue to be told to Judge Nippert and the prosecuting attorney. All of this evidence will be put in the form of sworn statements and turned over to the grand jury.

BALDWIN WORKS TURN OUT ENGINE EACH HOUR OF DAY

(Associated Press Telegram) Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—The Baldwin Locomotive works is building one locomotive every working hour of the day, according to Alva B. Johnson, president of the concern. Most of the business is for the United States and foreign governments. "The Baldwin Locomotive works," said Mr. Johnson, "is turning out seventy-eight locomotives a week. This is at the rate of more than one for every working hour of the day. It is not a maximum accomplishment. We shall do more."

GEN. GLENN AIDS Y. M. C. A. DRIVE IN CLEVELAND

(Associated Press Telegram) Cleveland, Nov. 16.—Major General E. F. Glenn, commander at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., addressed a public mass meeting here today to urge the Y. M. C. A. to continue its efforts for the men at Camp Sherman and urging upon Clevelanders to subscribe liberally to the Y. M. C. A. war fund. He urged campaign workers to keep the drive going until the last minute, even though the city had far subscribed its quota.

U. S. ARTILLERY ESCORTS BRITISH TANK TO CANADA

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, Nov. 16.—Armed American troops are today invading Canada, but the "invasion" is a peaceful one, the troops comprising battery A, of the New York field artillery, acting as an escort to the British tank, which is to feature Victory loan parades in Ottawa and Toronto. The tank has been on exhibition in Central park in this city. The troops left for Canada last night in a special train.

MEAT PRICES HIGHER BY 62 PCT. THAN YEAR AGO

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Nov. 16.—Prices of meat animals—hogs, cattle, sheep and chickens—were 62.3 per cent higher on October 15 than a year ago; 57.3 per cent higher than two years ago and 53.1 per cent higher than the average of the last seven years on that date, the department of agriculture announced today. Prices increased 1.9 per cent from September 15 to October 15, compared with an increase of 1.4 per cent in the same period in the last seven years.

FIGHTING STILL IS IN PROGRESS IN RUSS CAPITAL

Ambassador Francis Says Telegraph Offices Change Hands Frequently

FIRST MESSAGE FOR WEEK DAILY REPORT DELAYED

Has Had No Overtures From Bolshevik Forces Since the Revolt

(Associated Press Telegram) Copenhagen, Nov. 16.—A dispatch to the Politiken from Haparanda reports that according to latest advice, barricade fighting is taking place in Petrograd. (Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Nov. 16.—Ambassador Francis at Petrograd has had no written or oral communication with the Bolshevik government, he stated in a message received by the state department today. Fighting was in progress in the streets, he said, and the telephone and telegraph offices had changed hands several times. The ambassador stated that he had no knowledge of the situation outside of Petrograd. His message was the first received since Nov. 8, although it stated that he had filed cable reports every day. Failure of some of the ambassador's reports to come through may be due to the disturbed conditions.

FOSTER FUNERAL IS HELD AT CAPITAL; WILSON THERE

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Nov. 16.—Funeral services for John W. Foster, former secretary of state and dean of the American diplomatic corps, were held here today after which his body was taken to his old home at Evansville, Ind., for burial. A distinguished party, headed by President Wilson, attended the services. The former secretary, who is considered to have been the first professional diplomat produced by the American government. Secretary and Mrs. Lansing, the latter Mr. Foster's daughter, will accompany the body to Evansville, Ind.

SPEED UP LUMBER PRODUCTION FOR GREAT AIR FLEET

(Associated Press Telegram) Portland, Ore., Nov. 16.—Col. John Brice Dike of the army signal corps was here today to establish a government "spruce speeding" bureau for the Pacific northwest. He said he would launch a campaign to standardize and work to full capacity the organization and Washington logging camps and mills engaged in putting out airplane spruce. Ten thousand men, he said, would be sent into the forests to cut timber and an endeavor would be made to produce ten million feet of spruce a month for airplanes for the United States and her allies.

POPE WILL REQUEST TEUTONS TO AVOID ABUSE OF CIVILIANS

(Associated Press Telegram) Rome, Thursday, Nov. 15.—Pope Benedict has asked the governments of the central empires to instruct their military authorities operating west of Isonzo to follow the rules of international law in respecting the lives and property of civilians and in the protection of women and children, the clergy, hospitals, churches, bishops' palaces and Presbyteries. The pontiff also has ordered the papal nuncio at Munich and Vienna, if necessary, to appeal personally and directly to Emperor William and Emperor Charles to obtain the fulfillment of his wishes.

POWER PLANT CRIPPLED; 15,000 ARE OUT OF WORK

(Associated Press Telegram) Warren, O., Nov. 16.—Fifteen thousand men were thrown out of work, the schools were closed, and the city was without lights today, as a result of a breakdown at the powerhouse which furnishes the city with electricity. The breakage in two turbines were caused by an operation of the plant was halted. Work of repairing the turbines was rushed, but it was expected that no electricity would be available before Saturday morning.

QUAKE IS RECORDED. Washington, Nov. 16.—A pronounced earthquake estimated to have been centered about 5000 miles from Washington, occurred during the night, beginning at 12:35 a. m. and continuing until about 1:15 a. m. The maximum movement was between 11:17 p. m. and 11:40 p. m.

AUSTRO-GERMAN DRIVE THREATENS VENICE AND VERONA

SUGGEST EMBARGO ON ALL BUT WAR STUFF; SAVE CARS

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Nov. 16.—Substantial relief from war-time railroad congestion loomed as the result of recommendations of the railroad war board that rail transportation be devoted to more than 500 non-essential commodities. The extraordinary volume of freight and passenger traffic, incident to the nation's war preparations, make it necessary, it was explained, to devise some means for lightening the heavy burden on the railroads. Although the list of articles proposed to come under the ban was not made public, it was said today that an effort will be made to bar from rail privileges any article not necessary to the conduct of the war or vital to the every-day needs of the public.

CANADIAN WORKMEN STRIKE AS A PROTEST AGAINST THE DRAFT

(Associated Press Telegram) Victoria, B. C., Nov. 16.—Fifteen hundred men at the Trail Smelter are out on strike as a protest against the enforcement of the military service act. They refused to present themselves at tribunals. The situation is regarded as serious. Representations have been made to the provincial government but it is unlikely that the provincial police will be used to enforce the observance of the act. The employees of the smelter, most of whom are aliens are said to be determined in their attitude. At a meeting held Tuesday they decided not to subscribe to the Victory loan and a number of them made bonfires of the loan literature.

SUFF VICTORS PLAN FIGHT AGAINST PRO-GERMANISM

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, Nov. 16.—When the New York state association opposed to woman suffrage passes out of existence within the next few days, as the result of the recent suffrage victory, the women connected with the organization will form a new society to conduct a vigorous campaign against Socialist, pacifist and pro-Germanism in the state. It was learned today. The membership will be open to women of all shades of political opinion. It is said the only provision to be that the women must be pro-American without question. The attitude of the new organization will be, according to one of the leaders, "to let women quit fighting each other and all get together to fight the war."

ADOPT COSTUME FOR WOMEN SHOP WORKERS

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 16.—The management of the plant of the General Electric company here, after experimenting with various forms of dress for women workers has decided upon a kind of overalls as the safest garb for women working near machinery. The women have been ordered to wear them. They are designated as "khaki bloomers" and beginning next week.

Italians Declare All Enemy Attacks On Mountain Front Repulsed

BERLIN CLAIMS CAPTURE OF MOUNTAIN VILLAGE

Engineers of Italian Army Flood Territory Occupied By Teutons Along Piave

(Associated Press Telegram) Berlin, Nov. 16.—The town of Cismo on the northern Italian front, has been captured, the war office announced. Near the Adriatic on the western bank of the Piave German troops advanced and captured 1,000 Italians.

(Associated Press Telegram) Rome, Nov. 16.—All along the mountain front from Asiago to the Piave rivers the attacks of the pro-German forces which are expected to crush in the Italian line have been repulsed, it is announced officially. The positions attacked were annihilated in the hands of the Italians.

On the Venetian plains artillery battles of intense severity across the Piave river are in progress.

(Associated Press Telegram) Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Thursday, Nov. 15.—The flood gates of the Piave have been closed by Italian military engineers, and the enemy is now faced by a serious barrier.

The flood was loosed at a point where the enemy was attacking in crossing the Piave near Cismo (four miles from the coast), the whole region where he had advanced in his last attack. # TOO SOON TO SHOUT OVER SUB CONTROL OFFICIALS CLAIM

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Nov. 16.—In reply to a question in the house of commons today Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty said:

"The good return of tonnage sinking by enemy submarines last week and indeed the comparatively favorable result of the last two months ought not to be taken as indicating that the submarine menace is a thing of the past or defeated."

Sir Eric recalled his recent speech in the house of commons, in which he said the enemies act on British trade was being held but had not been defeated, that the Germans were building submarines faster than the British were destroying them, but that with improved methods he looked for the eventual defeat of this menace. He also reminded his hearers he had said merchant marine tonnage was not being maintained against the depredations of submarines.

WILL KEEP ON FIGHTING.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Nov. 16.—American naval experts, it was made plain today do not agree with the view that the lull in submarine activities indicates a collapse of the U-boat campaign or that anti-submarine measures have proved wholly effective. They agree that progress is being made against the menace but prefer to postpone judgment on whether the U-boat has been eliminated as a factor until the theory has been more thoroughly tested. Meanwhile the American navy will continue its preparations to deal with the menace.

It was said officially at the navy department today that there was nothing to forecast the possibility of a very heavy toll of ships next week, or at any subsequent period, and that varying results from week to week still were expected. Secretary Daniels authorized this statement:

"The marine menace has not proved the decisive factor in the war that Germans predicted it would be. It has done great harm, which should not be underestimated and is still a menace. Its purpose was to starve England by August and this, of course, it has failed to do."

The situation is this, as navy officials see it:

"The effort of the U-boat campaign to starve out Great Britain by fall of this year has failed. Winter is here and Great Britain has not been starved into submission and is in no immediate danger of being starved. The submarine still constitute, however, a grave menace to vitally necessary sea traffic and every effort to increase protection against them must be made.

"Such protection is being increased every month. Additional destroyers are coming into action and building of a great fleet and new American destroyers is proceeding rapidly. Various devices for detecting U-boats are being made more effective and instruments for their destruction are being improved. The conveying system is working out well and will be increasingly efficient as new destroyers and other craft are added."

Secretary Daniels conferred today with shipping board officials to adjust the two building programs so as to secure the maximum results from available facilities. Mr. Daniels said later that the navy and the shipyards were working in perfect harmony and that every energy was being concentrated on the production of destroyers and merchant ships.

AUSTRALIAN CAMEL CORPS IMPORTANT AID TO BRITISH IN VICTORIOUS CAMPAIGN AGAINST TURKS IN PALESTINE

Members of the Australian camel corps and map showing the latest British advances in Palestine. Left, General E. H. Allenby.

An important factor in the victorious sweeps of the British through Palestine in their campaign against the Turks has been the Australian camel corps. The sandy stretches of desert have been one of the greatest obstacles the British have encountered and the Australians have been able to cross them with ease on their war-trained camels. The new front of the British forces advancing in Palestine is represented in the map by a line running from Gaza, the recently taken coast town, through Tell Esch, Scheriah to Khumelkeh. The latter point is eleven miles north of Beersheba and thirty-three miles south of Jerusalem. The British forces have now advanced more than thirty miles from the Egyptian border. The capture of Jerusalem by the British will not be accomplished without a struggle, as there are many strong Turkish defenses between their present positions and Jerusalem and the city itself is strongly fortified. German army engineers are reported to have recently strengthened their defenses. General E. H. Allenby is in command of the British forces in Palestine.

AMERICAN PATROLS CLASH WITH ENEMY IN NO MAN'S LAND

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

With the American Army in France, Nov. 16.—There have been further encounters between American patrols and Germans in No Man's Land. Last night there were a number of clashes, but the night was dark and showery and the firing was a distance. There was no American casualties.

The Germans placed machine guns in several craters and sprayed streams of bullets on our communicating trenches. The American artillery hurled shells from their 75's at the positions and silenced the enemy.

American patrols have worked up to the German wire entanglements. The artillery fire day and night continues lively.

A German paper balloon, used to distribute propaganda behind the hostile lines, came down in the town occupied by American division headquarters, with copies of the Gazette des Ardennes, which is published in French at Charleville, attached.

The leading article attacked President Wilson for his alleged pre-war attitude and for not prohibiting the sale of munitions to Germany's enemies. In an attempt to convey an idea of reliability the newspaper also printed a British official statement telling of the capture of thousands of Germans in Flanders. The copies of the newspaper were sent to General Pershing.

BOLIVAR WINS OUT IN COON FIGHT; FEED FOLLOWS AT ELK CLUB

Mandel Brashier of the Rutledge store enjoyed a hunt with a couple of country cousins yesterday. The start was made shortly after midnight Wednesday as the three came in to feed at that hour Mr. Brashier took along his champion coon dog, Bolivar, and a fine specimen was treed about 2 a. m. He was finally brought to the ground and the dog and raccoon mixed it up, the former finishing the victor. The animal was a large one weighing 38 pounds dressed and was taken to the Elk club by Mr. Brashier where the steward, Col. Ball, held prepared it for a 7 o'clock dinner last evening. If you want relief in two days, swift, certain, gratifying relief, take a small dose of Rheumatism once a day. If you want to dissolve every particle of uric acid poison in your body and drive it out through the natural channels so that you will be forever free from rheumatism, get a bottle of Rheumatism from C. E. Boggs, or any druggist at once. It must give the joyful relief expected or money refunded. Rheumatism is a powerful disease, strongly entrenched in joints and muscles. In order to conquer it, a powerful enemy must be sent against it. Rheumatism is the enemy of rheumatism—an enemy that conquers it in nearly every instance. Judge John Harbort, of Ft. Loraine, Ohio, knows it. He was walking with crutches; today he is well. It should do as much for you; it seldom fails. (Advertisement)

HELP RED CROSS IS URGENT PLEA OF NORTHCLIFFE

Speaks in Warmest Admiration of Work of Society.

MANY MILLIONS ARE NEEDED

Do Your Little Bit Toward Victory of Troops by Giving Financial Support to the Red Cross, Is His Appeal—English Editor Tells of Bravery and Devotion of Red Cross Workers.

"By subscribing to the Red Cross Americans are not only ensuring to their wounded soldiers quick and skillful treatment; they are helping to make their homes and their lives safe, whatever part of the country they live in."

No man is better fitted or more fully entitled to speak about Red Cross work and to plead its claim upon public generosity than Lord Northcliffe, who is now in this country as head of the British war mission. In the sentence quoted above he summed up, in an interview granted to a newspaper representative, his view of the appeal for funds which the American Red Cross society is making to the people of the United States.

"For the good work which all the allied Red Cross societies have done on the battlefields on every front," Lord Northcliffe said, "I have the warmest admiration. I have seen their ambulances and their hospitals in the French and Italian war zones. I have been under fire with them. The courage and devotion shown by their stretcher-bearers, drivers, doctors, nurses and orderlies cannot be too highly praised. In France I came across American ambulances working with a steady disregard of danger and saving great numbers of lives. When the American armies take the field, they will need a huge Red Cross organization. It is up to the American people to see that they get it."

Much Money Needed.

"Red Cross work costs a great deal of money. Hospitals are costly to equip. Motor ambulances must be provided in large numbers, and must constantly be renewed. The bills for surgical instruments, drugs, and dressings mount up to a high figure every week. Many millions of dollars have been poured into the coffers of the British Red Cross society, and it is still asking for more. One of my newspapers, the London Times, has raised money for it at the rate of $40,000 a day over a long period. Altogether readers of the Times have so far contributed more than $5,000,000 to the Red Cross fund. Yet there has never been more than enough to provide for the day-by-day needs of the society's splendid activity.

"No one can fully appreciate the enormous value of this activity to the soldiers in the field who has not actually seen it. What happens to a wounded man when he is too badly hurt to walk is something like this. He is put on a stretcher and carried a short way to the rear. In the third line of trenches (each position consisting of three lines, one behind the other) there is a deep 'dig-out.' I will give you a short account of what I saw in one of these underground hospitals, or rather dressing stations, on a heavy sultry afternoon not far from the town of Peronne in France, around which there was for such a long time hard and costly fighting. There was no sign of anything in the nature of a hospital, a tent, or of anything above ground. I was getting somewhat weary of being told to lie down flat every few seconds to avoid bursting shells, when I saw a couple of stretchers being carried through the base as from nowhere and then disappear underground. It is underneath there, I was told by my guide, whose daily duty it was to inspect these medical outposts.

Stuffed With Wounded.

"As quickly as possible we got down into a trench, following the stretcher-bearers. There, in darkness lit by a few candles, we gradually made out a very grim scene. Talking was difficult for one of our batteries had just come into action a few yards away.

"Owing to the heavy enemy shell fire, what I soon found to be an underground maze had become completely choked with wounded men lying in the dark on their stretchers, the passage ways dug out of the clayish earth being just the width of a stretcher handle and no more. We trod gently from stretcher handle to stretcher handle over the silent men, some of them asleep with the blessed morphia in their brains, others cheerfully smiling, others staring as wounded men do. All who could move a hand had a cigarette, now admitted to be the first need of all but the very dangerously wounded.

"Passing on, and using our electric torch as little as possible, so as not to disturb the sleepers, we came to the main dressing room. Remember it was all underground, all dark, and that the occasional wall of approach-shells, with immediate subsequent explosions, was continuous.

"In this main dressing room the doctors, all young men, were washing and bandaging. I counted twenty-four patients in that small chamber. We crept onward and came to another room where there were nine cases, and again to a smaller one where lay the more dangerously wounded.

Touching Sight.

"These dressing rooms were protected by some four or five feet of earth above them. There was a small officers' mess and a medical storeroom, which were merely shielded by corrugated iron from shrapnel splinters, a kitchen, an office, and that was about all. An operation for tracheotomy was taking place in one of the rooms.

"In all my many experiences abroad I have never seen a more touching sight than this little underground gathering of some twenty men, devoted doctors and assistants, waiting amidst the incessant shelling until the overcrowded maze could be evacuated. Let those who take their ease on a Sunday afternoon, or any other afternoon, realize that this same scene never ceases. Let those who consider that they are simply doing their 'bit' by keeping things going at home, be grateful that their 'bit' is not as that of these young men. We cannot all of us share the danger, but we can every one of us admit the inequalities of our respective war work, and let them lose no opportunity of lightening the dark 'bit' of those at the front as far as lies in their power.

"Say this for me to the American people: Think, all of you who have sons, husbands, brothers, either in the ranks already or liable to be called for service, think of the soldier hit by a bullet or torn by shrapnel, shattered by bomb, mangled by high explosive, or poisoned by the fumes of horrible gas. To be picked up promptly and to receive careful treatment means life. To be left lying a long time on the battlefield means, if not death, permanent mutilation and disablement. Which is it to be? That depends upon you.

Help to Bring Victory.

"But that is not all I would say to the American people. I would say also this: Bear in mind continually, remind yourselves night and morning, that when you subscribe to the Red Cross, you are doing your little bit toward the victory of your troops, and when you help to bring victory within sight, you are helping to make your home safe, whatever part of the country you live in; helping to assert and to justify the claim of the American people to live as they choose to live, not as someone else wishes them to live.

"The war may seem a long way off from your home. You may find it difficult to imagine any interference by outsiders with the way of life to which you are accustomed. But think of Belgium, think of Serbia, think of Roumania. Think of the north of France and Poland and the western provinces of Russia. There the people have to live as Prussians order them to live. They cannot carry on their businesses. They are not allowed to go out and come in as they please. They are liable at any moment to be carried off into Germany and put to exhausting hard labor. Think of the people of Alsace and Lorraine before the war. They were not able to live as they wished to live. Think of the Danes in Schleswig-Holstein who have been obliged to struggle against Prussianization with painful effort for fifty years. Think of the inhabitants of German Poland, refused the right to have their children taught in their own language, deprived of their land, forced to submit to being Germanized in very harsh and abominable ways.

Would Control the World.

"Germany's aim is to control the world. This aim has been avowed over and over again by German writers and speakers. It was made popular. It was taught in schools. No consideration of honor or justice or humanity was to be allowed to interfere with it. Maximilian Harden, editor of the German weekly paper called, 'The Future,' is a man who shouts with the crowd. Now he is for peace. Now he attacks the Kaiser and Junkerdom for failing to keep their promises of victory. But when the German people believed in those promises, when they thought it possible that their claims to world-domination might be made good, Harden told them, 'The whole question is one of force.' Whoever had strength should use it. 'If we want to secure the position in the world which is our due, we must trust to our sword,' wrote General von Bernhardi, whose books were distributed in enormous numbers throughout Germany. Bismarck had taught the same hideous doctrine. 'Not by speeches and resolutions of majorities are the mighty problems of the age to be solved, but only by blood and iron.' And the chief of these 'mighty problems' was the problem how Prussia could obtain what was called in the writings of the 'world-domination' advocate, 'All-Deutschland,' sole lordship. 'The dream was that the Germans under Prussian guidance should treat the whole world as they treated French Alsace-Lorraine; as they treated Danish Schleswig-Holstein, as they treated Polish Posen.

The German Doctrine.

"Germany's Prussian guidance, has challenged the right of men and women to live as they choose to live, their right to freedom to develop in their own way, their right to pursue happiness according to their own ideas. 'Be German or we will crush you,' the Prussians said to the people of the conquered territories which I have mentioned. That is what they would say to the people of the United States if they could. They did their best to Germanize the United States during peace. If they were to be victorious in Europe, they would soon be attempting to accomplish this by making war.

"American soldiers are being sent to Europe to prevent the invasion of the United States. They will fight the Germans in France in order to avoid having to fight them at Boston or Chicago, or in California. By subscribing to the Red Cross fund you can help to safeguard your home and your right to live as you wish to live. These cannot be safe while the Prussian threat of world domination throws a dark shadow across the sun of liberty. Give all you can afford, in your own interest, as well as to mitigate the suffering of your brave soldiers. The help of everyone is needed if the peril is to be turned forever aside."

COST OF OUR SOLDIERS.

It doesn't make an American feel very proud to read that it costs us $14.80 to equip a soldier, where Germany can do it for $1.00. Of course some consideration enters into these figures that exaggerate their significance. They probably include the cost of all the ships we must build to get the supplies to the soldiers, also what we must spend to get destroyers to protect those ships from submarines. It is manifestly a great deal more costly to supply an army 3000 miles away than one close at home.

Also, they probably include the cost of rehabilitating the railroad systems of France, building docks and ports, deepening channels, etc. We have to build cantonments for training the army in the United States, and more cantonments abroad to complete their education. But after these cantonments are constructed, and after the railroads and docks and storehouses are completed in France, that part of the work won't need doing over.

The American soldier will be fed much better than the German. He will have comforts the German never expects. We would not be satisfied to do less for him.

With all these allowances made, the cost of equipping our men will be too high. It will be so because we had to do it all in a hurry. We were not able to foresee the great need for instant action. Had we taken more seriously the threats Germany was making against us, had we begun years before the work of assuring our safety, the cost of preparation could have been cut in two. But, of course, hindsight is better than foresight, and regrets are vain now.

In view of these costs, labor should be moderate in its demands for higher wages, and capital should limit itself to small profits. Every class must expect to make sacrifices to win this war.

Any soldier boy home on furlough will tell you that he is: always happy to get hold of the home newspaper while he is in camp. For a dollar we mail The Advocate for a period of three months. Hundreds of Advocates go to the military camps every day. Are you sending one to that soldier boy in whom you are interested?

"No matter how high the cost of food goes," remarked a Newark man this morning, "paper remains stationary." Evidently he didn't mean newspaper the price of which has risen anything but "stationary" for the past year or two.

CLEAN MILK.

No problem before the modern town is more difficult than that of clean milk. We all know how typhoid epidemics start from this source of contamination. The District of Columbia during recent years saved nearly three-fourths of its deaths of infants, and the securing of a good milk supply is supposed to have made most of the difference.

In a certain southern town there had been 28 cases of typhoid. The trouble was traced to one milk-dealer, but he denied any possibility of contamination. When he was ordered not to sell milk, the disease stopped. Then it appeared that he had been buying milk secretly in another town where there was typhoid.

With high prices of feed and labor, the farmer is between the devil and the deep sea. He would as soon be clean. But it costs money to keep cow stables constantly swept and washed, and the cows hide similarly cleaned. He feels that the public won't pay the additional cost of the work.

Old-fashioned people look back to the simple old days when cows wallowed in dirt, and cow barns were sunless and disease-breeding holes. They say people lived long in those days. Yet out of the big families of eight and ten children, three or four used to die in infancy. Dirty milk had much to do with it.

It is worth while for the public to pay a good price for milk and have it clean. Also the farmer must realize that the public is getting more particular about these things. People visit their milkmen to see how he does business. If a man is not careful and sanitary, it will soon be whispered around among the housewives. He will find his business falling off. He must live up to the standards of the times or quit.

RED CROSS PACKAGES.

Friends of the Red Cross who were not fully informed as to the methods of the organization for providing Christmas packages for soldiers and sailors have, in some instances, been sending these packages to national headquarters.

The Red Cross plan is to have all Christmas packages assembled by local chapters and auxiliaries. They are packed in cases at the work rooms and forwarded directly to division warehouses, and thence distributed through the division offices. The function of the national headquarters is executive, and it therefore has no facilities for handling these donations. The American Red Cross is deeply grateful for the interest which has been shown everywhere in helping to carry out the Christmas plan, and is anxious to have every helper properly informed on this point, so that there may be no loss or delay in gathering the packages.

The total value of enemy-owned property and securities in this country is estimated at eight hundred millions to a billion dollars. In naming A. Mitchell Palmer custodian there was not the slightest thought of stealing this money, but it will be kept under supervision, and when the war ends there will be an accounting. The United States will, no doubt, see to it that the families of Americans who lost their lives on the Lusitania, Sussex, and other vessels, are compensated through the losses sustained after the declaration of war will not be taken into consideration.

Less than 40 days till Christmas. By all means do your shopping early this year. The mails and the express cars are congested as never before and this season the rush will be greater than ever. Avoid confusion and delay by buying and shipping early.

After blaming the allies for not concentrating all attention on the western front, it is the opinion of the grocery store parliament that a great mistake was made in not helping the Russians, Italians, and Serbians.

The stock-market people that have completely lost hope of the foreign situation are the same ones who, about three months ago, thought the war would be over by Christmas.

"Where does all the snuff that is manufactured go?" queried a man in Stevens' cigar store this morning. "No one nose," observed an innocent bystander.

Several Chicago stores are advertising for pennies, paying $1.03 per hundred. The war tax brings the humble cent into great demand.

Brazil is the twenty-first country to go to war with Germany. The probability is that other South American nations will follow.

Some day the downtown streets will be repaired. Speed the time!

FERTILIZERS.

In a previous issue reference was made to the handicap placed on food production in the United States by Germany's monopoly of the potash supply.

Many of our rocks contain potash, but no method of working it profitably has yet been devised. The old-time housewives used to get potash out of wood ashes, but only 220 tons are figured to have been secured from this source last year. Hopes have been entertained of deposits on government reservations in California, but only 3394 tons were got out in 1913.

Also the government was hopeful that it could be extracted in large quantities from kelp on the coast of California, but only 1000 tons were secured last year. There is an enormous reward in money and fame for the man who will find an American supply of this plant food. We have already paid Germany $20,000,000 in past years for potash. We must face the fact that she may be ugly about letting us have it after the war.

A ton of wheat takes from the soil 47 pounds nitrogen, 18 pounds phosphoric acid, and 12 pounds potash. Peru and Chile are the great sources of nitrate supply. From those beds 53,000,000 tons have been taken out. The experts in those countries think the supply is in danger of exhaustion. Scientists of ours say there is no danger of it. At any rate there is always the possibility of the fixation of nitrogen from the air.

As to phosphates, the United States exported $7,000,000 worth last year, so we are well-cared for there. Germany is short of natural phosphates, but is getting them as by-product in steel-making. Let every American farmer remember that keeping up soil fertility is a vital part of efficient war-making. We are well-fitted for this in every respect but one; thanks to the superb natural resources of our soils.

NO POLITICAL PROMOTIONS.

The war department has issued a notice to the men at some of the army camps warning them not to ask for army promotions through political influence. Politics is so ingrained in American life that it is a natural thing that some of our army boys should seek this way of getting ahead.

It has been the principle that when anyone wants anything within the gift of his government, he should "see" his congressman. He thinks it is not necessary for him to perfect himself in the line in which he is seeking an opportunity. If he has political pull.

That thing may go in civil life, but fortunately it has no great influence in the army and is not likely to. The army men do not want officers who obtained their positions through friendship. They want the best talent there is. When a fellow begins to pull wires, it will look as if he knew he couldn't get by on merit.

NO DOUBT ABOUT ATROCITIES.

(New York Times.)
It is impossible to put oneself in the place of those abstracted souls who looked upon all reports of German atrocities as inventions of an excitable enemy. They are perhaps not making themselves as much heard these days as they were a short time ago, when, in order to prove that both sides were equally to blame in the war, they waived

TRoublesome DAYS FOR EDITORS.

(Columbus Dispatch.)
These are troublesome days for editors. Talk about the upper and the lower millstones, the editors know the meaning thereof, for that is the geographical location of most of the scribes of the country at this time, thanks to the war.

The government urges us to conserve supplies of every kind. The editor, patriotic and desiring to stand by the government, so argues. The conservation affects something with supplies to sell, and the editor is informed that he knows nothing about "conditions"—and if he is wise he will admit it. "Conditions" never did interest editors.

To illustrate: The editor tells people to wear their old clothes. The clothing merchants want to know how they are going to make a living if the editor's advice is followed. The editor tells the women to bake their own bread; the bakers want to know what the editor has against them, as if editors ever had anything against anybody. Advocate the use of fish and the fowl dealers say it is discrimination against them; advocate the use of fowls and the fish dealers protest.

So these are troublesome days for editors, with never a trench in which they can run and feel safe from the shells of an offended citizen. But, come to think of it, all says, since the beginning of time, have been troublesome days for editors, and ever will be unto the end of the world.

MILITANT PREACHERS NEEDED.

(Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.)
The militant address of the Rev. Dr. George W. Downs of New York in Astbury Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday night ought to clarify the situation for preachers who are hedging on the war.

"I know of nothing in the Christian religion that prevents a man from protecting the weak, preserving the activity of the home, and defending himself and his family from a madman. Too many men are using religion to cloak a yellow streak."

Dr. Downs is a minister of many years experience, but he says he would go into the trenches and drive his bayonet into the enemy without the slightest hesitation. And why? Because he knows we have to "rise up and meet the war; the Hun is at

THE FALLING TORCH

The issue is clear cut to every man whose vision is not distorted; if we don't whip Germany, Germany will whip us. That is all there is to it.

The pastors and priests are the natural guides of their people. If the government on one side is asking the people to be militant and their pastor is preaching pacifist sermons, what are they to think? Will not such a condition weaken the resolution of the easily led and lessen their effectiveness as war citizens? Inevitably. And that means, quite possibly, that some enlisted men of that very congregation will die because somebody failed to subscribe to a bond or to make a Y. M. C. A. or Red Cross contribution.

TREATY WITH JAPAN.

(Ohio State Journal.)
Concession to Japan of larger interests in China by reason of her proximity to that country is in line with our national experience. We always claimed as much for this country in the Western Hemisphere. The Monroe doctrine was based upon that idea. It is said China doesn't like the United States' attitude upon this matter. Well, it is high time China was taking care of itself. It is big enough and old enough not to permit Japan's undue interference with its internal policies. What China needs is spirit. It should assert itself and not live forever upon the favor of other nations. To fear little Japan's inroads upon her rights is like pleading the baby act. This country has done the wise thing in according to Japan the rights of a neighbor. The treaty has made with Japan is regarded in this country with satisfaction. It is not taking sides with Japan. It is according China all she is entitled to.

WHERE THEY OUGHT TO BE.

(New York Tribune.)
Better late than never. The Hamburg-American Line officers in this city taken over by the government on Thursday should have been self-ordered long ago. The company's headquarters has long been a center of anti-American activities. Its officers broke laws in Germany's interest while we were still at peace with Berlin. Its interned ships, while enjoying our protection, were turned into hatching places of plots against American neutrality. They sheltered spies and sabotage conspirators and their machinery was wrecked, under orders from abroad, even before congress declared war on Germany. The officials of the company have continued to work for the cause of the kaiser, who is a large Hamburg-American stockholder. They have been putting obstacles in the way of prosecution of the war. In this city should be destroyed. Dangerous enemy aliens should be interned for the duration of the war.

Did You Know?

That epiphytes differ from parasitic plants in not subsisting on the juices of the plant which supports them? They either draw all their nourishment from the air or subsist on decayed portions of the bark of the plant. Parasitic plants derive sustenance from the juices of plants on which they grow and are numerous and very various. The greater number, however, and the most important are the small fungi, as rust, brand, smut, etc., the minute spores of which are supposed to circulate through the juices of the plant which they attack.

FLEMING'S SCOWL HAS NO TERRORS FOR BOWSER; BEATS MICHIGAN MAN

That Michigan bearcat "Mad Coad" Fleming might strike terror into the hearts of the wrestlers of the lower peninsula all right, but he failed to terrorize Paul Bowser at the Auditorium last night. Bowser defeated the Michigan man in two straight falls, taking the first in 28 minutes and the second in five minutes. Although short, the bout was rather spectacular and the good sized crowd found plenty of amusement in the event. Fleming lived up to his reputation for rough work and found that Bowser was willing to meet him with like tactics. The scowl which gives the Northwoods man his moniker, never left the wrestler's face and he frequently growled at the crowd during the course of the match.

Bowser took the offensive from the beginning of the match. He maintained this advantage through the first fifteen minutes when Fleming managed to escape from a hold and took the lead. He didn't dodge the issue and worked hard for a decision. He punished Bowser severely with the toe hold and also when he got an advantage which permitted him to work on the Newark man's back. Several times during the first chapter, the men rushed from the mat and referees Webber had some difficulty in forcing a break and getting the men back on the padded surface.

Just before the first fall, Bowser had administered some severe punishment with the toe hold, besides taking some of the same medicine from Fleming. Breaking his hold, Fleming seemed in a fair way to keep out of danger until Bowser got a head and neck hold on the Detroit grappler and slammed him several times for a decision.

For the second fall both wrestlers seemed to rely upon the toe hold and each worked for this advantage on his opponent. Fleming was the first to get this hold and he held on with main strength. Bowser finally returned the compliment and for a time both men held this hold, each taking considerable punishment. The men finally worked into such position that each held both toes of his opponent, a sort of a quadruple toe-hold. If there is such a thing in the wrestling game, Bowser was the first to escape from this and sought to change to the "step-over" toe-hold but was unable to get the proper "hitch" so he seized both legs, picked Fleming up, bodily from the mat, whirled him giddily a half dozen times and dropped him on the mat and fell upon him. By main strength he forced the Michigan man's shoulders to the mat and won the event. While whirling through the air, Fleming's face was a study. He seemed not to have the faintest idea where the thing would end. With some foresight, he clasped both hands about his head as a protection against possible contact with the piano in the orchestra pit or the brick wall in the rear of the stage and patiently awaited the end. The gentle conclusion to the unusual attack seemed to come as a relief to the man.

In the usual address to the crowd afterward Fleming said he knew he was going to meet a good man but that he thought himself a better man. He realized his error, he said, and thought that no man in America of Bowser's weight could beat the Newark champion.

In the preliminaries, Vance Wallace and Earl Mooncatch wrestled 15 minutes to a draw. Mooncatch held the offensive throughout the greater part of the bout, though Wallace escaped from his clutches toward the latter part of the match and worked hard on the heavier man but without success. Friends of both men in the house found lots of enjoyment shouting words of encouragement across the footlights.

In the opener, Leslie Fishbaugh proved to be a easy master over two youngsters substituted for Young Anarino who was injured in training Thursday afternoon and was unable to appear.

As an opening event, the program seemed to please the crowd and it promises another successful season in the popular sport being promoted by Bowser.

WILLIAM DIMETRAL, FAMOUS HEAVYWEIGHT MEETS BOWSER HERE THURSDAY, DEC. 6TH

William Dimetral, heavyweight Greek wrestler, who has been taken under the protective wing of the Columbus Athletic club, will meet Paul Bowser, local middleweight champion, in a handicap match at the Auditorium Thursday evening, Dec. 6. Bowser made this announcement last night following the match at the Auditorium with Coad Fleming. Bowser said that he had booked the Fleming match as an experiment to learn his condition after his illness early this fall. He found that he was as good as ever.

In telling of his plans for the Dimetral event, he said he expected to train as he had never trained before and that he believed he could promise to be in the best condition of his career when he steps on the mat with the big Greek.

Dimetral has the reputation of being a terror on the mat and as the rough stuff is meat and drink to Bowser, the match should be full of thrills, despite the handicap. Dimetral is probably the most noted grappler to be brought to Newark under the auspices of the Bowser school.

CIVILIANS DESERT VENICE; THE MAYOR WILL STAY ON JOB

(Associated Press Telegram)
Venice, Thursday, Nov. 15.—Venice is now almost empty, the population having been reduced from the usual 160,000 to 20,000. Despite the proximity of the enemy lines at the mouth of the Piave river and the unsuccessful efforts the Austro-Germans have made to take the long triangle between the mouth of the Piave and Sile rivers, the remainder of the population is calm.

The city may not be defended in case of an attack in order to spare the monuments and art treasures. The mayor of Venice, who is a descendant of the Doges and a chamberlain to the queen of Italy, announced today that he would remain at his post.

The outward appearance of the city is very desolate, much like when the Austrians made their last descent upon it more than 50 years ago. All the main hotels, cafes and factories and the jewelry and glass shops patronized by tourists are closed. The hotel Royal Danieli on the Grand Canal, remains partly open, and two well known cafes on the Piazza di St. Mark. The Florian and Quadri are still open. There is nothing open along the Lido.

The city authorities are furnishing trains and ships to take away any of the remaining population who wish to go. The best known centers, such as the Rialto bridge, St. Mark's Square, and the square where the gondolas are hired, are now deserted except by a few stragglers. There are five shops open and they are selling goods at any price to save them from passing into the hands of the enemy. There has been much activity outside the lagoon and yesterday several guns bombarded the enemy positions at the mouth of the Piave river.

Some foreign consuls remain, but most others residing here temporarily have gone. All the palaces along the Grand Canal are closed and the occupants have departed, though a few noble families and some descendants of the Doges remain with the firm purpose of not abandoning the city under any circumstances. All the government officers have been removed outside the city, but the government prefect, Count Clois, remains at his post.

As a general thing, if Daughter is believed to have artistic talent she isn't expected to marry near home.

STATE GRID TITLE AT STAKE IN GAME WITH WEST HIGH HERE SATURDAY AT 2:30

The game between Newark and West High of Columbus Saturday afternoon will practically decide the state championship. The local pigskin chasers have stacked up 27 points this season to the opposing teams 14. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock at White Athletic field and no doubt will be witnessed by the largest crowd of the season.

H. P. Swaine, of Dickman college has been selected as the referee while Dr. J. W. Rohrer will be the umpire. The lineup and weights of the local boys are as follows:

Power, L. E. 135; Hornby, L. L. 144; Stowell, L. E. 144; Kilpatrick, C. 135; Warner, T. E. 145; Sturgeon, T. C. 135; Mayer, T. E. 139; Preiner, L. H. 145; O'Brien, T. H. 145; Orr, T. B. 165; Osborne, D. B. 133.

The average weight of the team is 141 pounds and the boys have been putting up a splendid front in all the games played this season. Saturday's game will be the last one on home ground.

TEACHER WILL TELL OF PHILIPPINE EXPERIENCES

Paul E. Murphy a member of the faculty of the Newark High school will give an illustrated lecture on "In the Land of the Headhunters" at the High School Auditorium this evening at 8:15 o'clock. Mr. Murphy spent several years in the Philippines and the lecture is being given under the auspices of the Athenian Literary society of the school for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. war fund. The admission is but 10 cents and tickets can be secured at the Y. M. C. A.

MISS SNIDER STILL IS UNCONSCIOUS FROM WOUND

(Special to The Advocate.)
Gratiot, Nov. 16.—The condition of Miss Fannie Snider of Mt. Sterling, who was injured in a fall from a machine remains extremely critical at the Good Samaritan hospital, Zanesville. She has not yet regained consciousness.

She was riding on the running board of the automobile of J. E. Werland, of New Lexington and as the side curtains were on he thought she had alighted safely.

RHEUMATISM NOT A DISEASE OF OLD AGE SAYS MAN OF SEVENTY-EIGHT

Discards Crutches After Suffering Many Years
Was Flat On His Back For a Year—Pain Stiffness Gone—
Feels Like a Boy

HIRAM WHITING
Var-ne-sis Enthusiast, Who Conquered Rheumatism
Despite His Age.

"I am seventy-eight years of age and haven't a pain or ache," said Hiram Whiting, when seen at his home in Avon, Mass., where he has been a resident for the past fifty years.

"I have always held to the belief that rheumatism was a disease of old age, but I have had reason to change that opinion during the past year. My experience in fighting the disease I gladly give for the benefit of other sufferers.

"For one year I was flat on my back, unable to turn or help myself in any way. I was in constant pain day and night to even come near my bed would bring on a paroxysm. Almost every joint was afflicted; my hands, arms, shoulders, back, hips and knees. No one knows the suffering I endured during that year.

"The five doctors that attended me failed to relieve my misery and I was very much discouraged when a specialist told me he had done everything in his power. I was still suffering and thought I would never be able to leave my bed. I tried everything suggested, liniments, oil and all external applications. I must have taken a barrel of medicine, and still I suffered.

"My hips and knees were sore and stiff, my hands were useless, swollen with a chalky substance. I was about to give up when I heard of Var-ne-sis. I was skeptical, and thought if the doctors couldn't help me it would be foolish to try anything further. However, the day I started to take Var-ne-sis proved to be a wonderful day for me. It was the beginning of the end of my misery.

"Gradually the pain and stiffness left me, so that I was able to go about on crutches, the swelling disappeared, and my fingers became less and less stiff until I was able to close my hands. After three months I discarded the crutches and have given them to W. A. Varney to add to his collection.

"All my friends in Avon know how I suffered, and know me as I am today. They consider my recovery remarkable, for very few thought I would ever walk again. I hope this statement will be the means of others finding relief in Var-ne-sis, as I have."

Var-ne-sis is the one preparation for chronic rheumatism of the joints; it tends to help the stomach and relieves the pain and stiffness. You ought to read "The Rast of Human Hinges," just off the press. It's free. Just address W. A. Varney, Lynn, Mass. W. A. Varney says: Get Var-ne-sis now, today, at R. W. ## LASTING GOOD IS NEWLY REVEALED IN ANOTHER CASE

After a Year O. E. Trackman Sergeant Re-affirms Nerv-Worth Statement.

There's no doubt about it—Nerv-Worth benefits "stay put." A year ago E. C. Sergeant, the veteran Zanesville street car trackman, made the following statement:

"Before taking Nerv-Worth I was very nervous. Trembled nearly all the time. Very despondent for 15 years. Sometimes was on the point of 'taking to the river.' Was dizzy and had spots before my eyes. Had nervous headache. Had to quit work for two years. Was severely constipated. I tried all the doctors and experts I could without good results. Was so nervous I would sit down and cry at times."

Then Mr. Sergeant told what happened after taking Nerv-Worth:

"When the first bottle was gone I was so much relieved that I went back and got the second one. When the second was taken my nervousness was substantially gone. Low spirits passed away—no more thoughts of the river for relief. Dizziness and constipation almost gone."

This praise was given over a year ago. A few days ago a Nerv-Worth representative called on Mr. Sergeant to see whether the tonic's benefits had endured and the gentleman promptly reaffirmed the year-old statement and added, "I am enjoying good health and am still a great believer in Nerv-Worth as being the greatest remedy I have ever known of."

FRENCH TACKLE WAR AS UNPLEASANT JOB TO BE ENDED QUICKLY

Pollux do not take the war as a glittering and glorious thing these days, said Thomas McConnell, first Ohio Wesleyan University man to arrive home from active service on the French front. "Most of the French soldiers look upon the war as a big, distasteful task to be done. They grit their teeth and go to it. The idealism has been eliminated," continued McConnell, in telling interesting things to his college friends.

McConnell, who is the son of Bishop Francis J. McConnell of Denver, left last spring with a unit of the American Ambulance corps. After a couple of weeks in Paris his company was attached to the 26th Division of Alpine Chasseurs, which unit was active in the summer campaign at Verdun and on the Chemin-des-Dames. He was located at Esnes most of the time.

McConnell had many interesting tales to tell about the voyage over and experiences in trenches and under fire. He spent one night in a shell crater between the lines and had many narrow escapes from shell fragments. He had interesting conversations with German prisoners. He saw the "Sammites" well received in Paris and says that the Frenchmen are very grateful for the Red Cross supplies they have been receiving.

Late in the summer McConnell was invalided to a base hospital and after recovery was given a month's furlough. He has passed examinations for the aviation corps and will return to France to receive his training in flying. He was active in college affairs at Ohio Wesleyan for two years and is a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

WHOLE HAPPY FAMILY WEARS "TANLAC SMILE" BROUGHT BY MOTHER'S RENEWED HEALTH

The "Tanlac Twins," John and Frank, aged two, standing by baby brother George, who is being held by the mother, Mrs. John Dewey. Mrs. Dewey has reason to thank Tanlac for taking the raspy edge off her frayed nerves.

THREE of the dearest children in the world nearly drove Mrs. John Dewey to distraction until Tanlac toned up her nerves. She now sleeps soundly every night, no matter how full the day has been with worries and problems such as only a loving but busy mother can know.

The "Tanlac Twins" and their baby brother are active every minute from the time they open their eyes in the morning until their adoring mother sings them to sleep at night.

Mrs. Dewey's greatest joy in life is her family. No effort is too much for her to make and no youngsters anywhere now have better care or attention than John, Frank and Baby George, because their mother is not harassed by health worries.

When a woman has passed a restless night and her nerves are so frayed she feels like shrieking out loud, threatening little elf can bring her just as close to a real breakdown as actual sickness can.

Mrs. Dewey, who lives at 1512 Cutter street, Cincinnati, said:

"You know how much noise twin boys can make? Well, when Frank and John were about six months old, I began to suffer from these nervous spells. When they were able to crawl around the floor, I used to go nearly crazy at the noise they made. Often I had to go into another room.

"I endured this for more than a year because nothing seemed to help me. I became so nervous and run-down that I lost my appetite and couldn't eat much. I was never hungry. I got thinner and thinner until both my husband and myself became worried about my health. I couldn't seem to give the children the care they needed. I didn't have the strength. Now, however, I am strong again and am gaining weight. I can now carry George around without getting tired, and he is a big boy, too."

"Since taking Tanlac for a month, my nerves have become quiet. I don't feel fretted even when little George cries. It doesn't seem to upset me like it used to. My appetite and strength have come back. I eat more than I used to and never have any trouble with my stomach."

Tanlac may also be procured at the Evans' pharmacy, Warden Hotel block, east side square, Newark, and at the Hebron Drug Store, Hebron, Ohio.

EMPTY SUGAR BOWLS.

Every sugar bowl at the Athletic Club of Columbus Thursday, was empty. The club still has a very limited supply of sugar and, of course, the guests were served with sugar when they asked for it. The empty sugar bowls were placed on the tables to thoroughly impress upon the minds of the club members not only the extreme shortage of sugar but also to bring home to them the gravity of the war situation. This little note was in the bottom of each sugar bowl: "I used to be full every day—But—The Sugar Bowl."

Seen on an Ostrich Farm.

It is no uncommon thing to see a male ostrich strutting about followed by three or four distinct broods, all of different sizes. When the incubating process is completed the cock bird leads his young ones off and, if he meets another proud papa, engages in a terrific combat with him. The vanquished bird retreats without a single chick, while the other, surrounded by the two broods, walks away triumphantly.

You never can tell. Many a man throws bouquets at himself who isn't especially fond of flowers.

Abie Martin

"Who remembers when women wore shawls?" said Lake Bud, today. We remember when it was a common sight to see a man wearin' a plaid shawl an' a plug hat. We wonder if Uncle Sam would object to appointin' a beef stew director while he's at it?

ITALIANS FLOOD THE LOWLANDS OF PAIVE; COVER RIGHT FLANK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, Nov. 16.—Embattled for protection of Venice and Lombardy, the Italians have opened the flood gates of the Piave and Sile rivers, northeast of Venice, to keep in check the Austro-German forces which have crossed the Piave near Grisolera. In attempting to inundate the triangle whose apex is near San Donà di Piave the Italians hope to prevent any enemy movement to flank the right wing of the Italian army along the Piave.

Near the Adriatic the Piave and Sile rivers are contained in canals running through land at or below sea level and which stretches for many miles along the Adriatic from the Venetian lagoon. With the rivers allowed to flow unchecked it would appear to make Austro-German efforts in this region barren of results. In the mountains between Asiago and the Piave the great pressure of the invaders has not brought great results. On the Asiago plateau the Italians are struggling out their line gradually and it is here that the Austro-Germans have progressed slightly. These gains, however, apparently have not been of great strategic value and the danger of the Piave line being outflanked, although still present, probably has not become serious enough to cause any changes in the Italian plans. The tension between the Piave and the Sile is very strong, but the Italians have been able to check violent attacks at various points along the sector. Fresh Austro-German attempts to cross the Piave have been rendered futile by the Italian defense. The Italians are holding in check those troops which crossed near Zenson and in the marshland near the Piave the invaders have been unable to make any progress in the face of Italian counterattacks and artillery fire previous to the opening of the flood gates.

The greater portion of the populace of Venice has left that city, from which all portable art treasures also have been removed.

The city, which is now but a scant 17 miles from the battle line, may not be defended in the event of an attack in order to spare the monuments and art treasures that remain there.

Communication with Petrograd again has been restored but no direct news has been received from the Russian capital.

The Bolsheviks are still in control in Petrograd while Premier Kerensky's troops reported to be in flight and again to be marching on the Bolshevik stronghold.

Efforts of the socialists to arrange a settlement with the Bolsheviks and to bring about a new coalition government have failed. Other reports say that the Maximilianists, Lenin and Trotsky are losing their popularity.

The Bolsheviks in Moscow are reported to have been defeated completely in street fighting which claimed 2,000 lives. Heavy fighting has occurred at Kiev where the Cossacks were said to have arrived several days ago.

There has been little fighting activity of moment on the eastern and western fronts. The American troops in France continue to harass the Germans in patrol actions and with artillery fire. There have been more clashes in No Man's Land from which the Americans reaped unscathed. American patrols have reached the wire entanglements before the German trenches and American gunners have put German machine guns out of action. Lord Northcliffe, newspaper proprietor and head of the British war mission to the United States, has declined to become head of the new air ministry in the British cabinet. His refusal, he explained in a letter to Premier Lloyd George, is due to dissatisfaction with some of the methods of the premier's administration. Lord Northcliffe is dissatisfied, he says, with regard to present relations with the United States which country, he intimates, may have to take control of allied war activities.

CAMP SHERMAN BOYS GO INTO TRENCHES FOR PRACTICE WORK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, Nov. 16.—Ohio selective service soldiers at Camp Sherman are getting into the "real" war game. The 330th regiment broke the ice today by giving up routine drills to take to the trenches. Other units are to get the same work from now on. The first men to go in the new trench area for practice in trench warfare went out unarmed but loaded with sandwiches and other eats. Soup was brought on from the camp, two miles distant as if from a base.

The trench work includes most of the practices that selectives can expect when they get "over there." They are being taught how to enter the trenches, how to get from one to another by communication trenches, how to "go over the top" how to crawl or get over "No Man's Land," how to help each other in and out of trenches and all the important movements and actions that have been found necessary for soldiers to know. There is practice too in bringing up the hot soup from the "base" in getting water to the men and all other necessities, each of which will be taught thoroughly as time goes on.

The day was marked also by the first bayonet combat work for officers, armed with wooden guns and protected with heavy masks and padded protectors much like those worn by baseball catchers. Nearly 400 lieutenants have just completed a course in bayonet exercises—how to handle guns, how to use them, how to side step, ward off and the scores of other bayonet movements necessary in the making of complete users of the "gun" as the bayonet rapidly is becoming to be known, after an English practice. Very soon the enlisted men are to be in the same course that the officers just have finished.

A warning was received by commanders of all units today concerning food conservation in Camp Sherman. After quoting a letter from the adjutant general of the army to Major General E. F. Glenn concerning reports that have been received by the war department that national army camps are not conserving food, the officers in Camp Sherman are instructed to "do all things necessary to conserve all food and other supplies."

Other notations from General Glenn's headquarters include a request to all soldiers to buy railroad tickets and not to pay cash fare when using the trains to and from camp; that all motorcycles and automobiles within the cantonment keep license plates clean of mud so that the number can be distinguished and that commanders give notice of unattended young girls being in camp. In this connection, it is stated:

"It is noted that immature young girls unattended, are coming to camp in increasing numbers. When questionable behavior, commensurate with organization, commanders will inform the girls protective division."

The selectives are getting their first real full month's pay this week. The 329th infantry and the 322nd artillery were paid yesterday and other units will be paid before the end of the week. The pay roll this time will run more than a million dollars for the selectives alone.

Company H. of the 329th infantry is the first company outside the 330th regiment to go under quarantine because of pink eye today. The whole regiment has been confined to its area as a precautionary movement rather than a necessary measure.

One of the biggest social events of the camp thus far is the artillery ball this evening in the central Y. M. C. A. Officers of career regiments of artillery are giving it and many out of town guests are expected. Because of the dance, the Camp Sherman football team, scheduled to leave Friday by motor for Cincinnati, will not go until Saturday morning, reaching Cincinnati at midday. Most of the players are officers who have been looking forward to the dance, many expecting guests.

HERE IS ONE RECIPE FOR USING CORN MEAL.

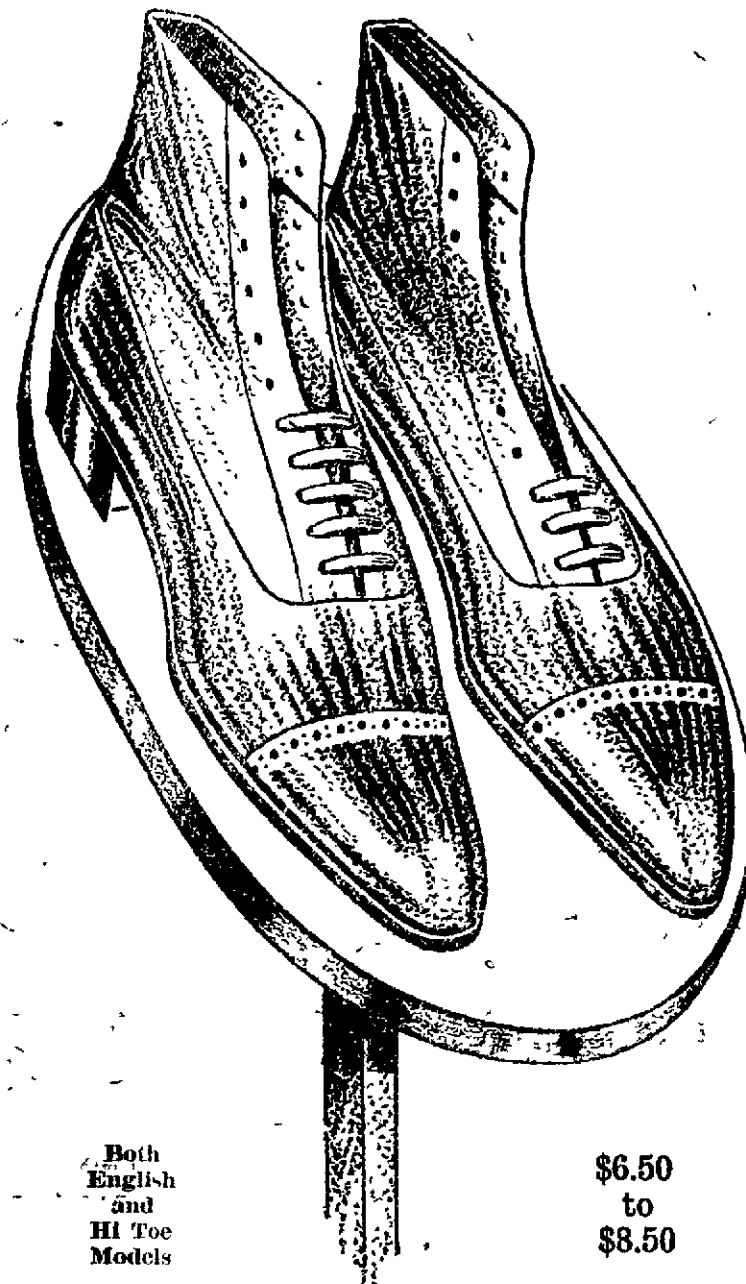

Cornmeal can become popular on wheatless days, not alone as Johnny cake or pancakes, but as fruit bread or gems. Its wider use will allow more wheat to go over seas to the starving allies and at the same time will improve American health. Apple corn bread was judged delicious by those who tasted it in the baking laboratory of the Ohio Experiment Station. It was made with three cups of cornmeal, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a little salt and a teaspoonful of baking powder, to which after mixing 1-2 cups of milk was added. Three tart sliced apples were later added and the mixture was baked for 30 minutes. Fruit gems, made with raisins and currants, seemed even better to some tastes.

For Winter Wear Cordo Tan Wins

When a young man sees a Walk-Over boot of Cordo-Tan, it's ten to one no other boot will do.

The new Cordo-Tan leather is made from calfskin and looks like Cherry Cordovan. But it beats them both.

The waterproofness—the smooth set on the foot—the perfect finish—the rich, deep cherry-mahogany color—all combine to make this the ideal leather for winter wear.

See a pair on your feet. You'll agree that Walk-Over boots of Cordo-Tan have just the "kick" and "pep" you are looking for.

Can the Bolsheviki Strangle Free Russia?

No hopeless view of the Bolsheviki uprising in Petrograd is taken by American editorial observers altho it is frankly recognized that the plan for a separate Russo-German peace might help solve Germany's food problem and release many German soldiers from the Eastern front. In the view of an Associated Press correspondent, just returned from Petrograd, however, the uprising gives the Bolsheviki the rope with which to hang themselves, and this view is shared by the well-informed Russkoye Slovo, a Russian daily published in New York.

"The Bolsheviki may occupy all the palaces and strongholds of Petrograd," remarks this Russian journal, "as they did during their insurrection last July; they may impose their will briefly upon the members of the Government and claim control of the capital, but they can not dominate for more than a brief period, the indignant, loyal forces of the Russian nation."

For a clear explanation and understanding of the causes leading up to, and the possible outcome of, the overturning of the Kerensky Government you should read THE LITERARY DIGEST for November 17th. By direct quotation from leading journals, American and foreign, the reader is able to obtain a clear knowledge of all the facts in this very critical juncture in the world's war.

PREPARED BY THE U. S. FOOD ADMINISTRATION AT WASHINGTON

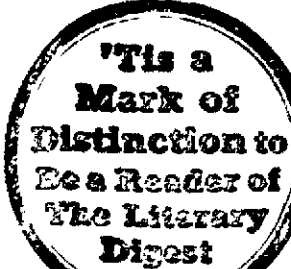

Under the heading "War-Time Food Problems," THE LITERARY DIGEST will hereafter contain an important department, the material for which is prepared especially for "The Digest" by the United States Food Administration.

This new department will contain authoritative and practical information for every man, woman, and child in America. Methods for saving money in buying food and cooking it; recipes for health-giving and economic dishes; how excess profits are being curtailed; what to do to prevent overcharging; how you can cooperate for your own benefit and the benefit of the American people, and for our sons who are upholding American manhood in the training camps in this country and on the battle-fields of Europe; these are just a few of the subjects that will be covered each week.

This Department is ideally adapted for use in high schools and includes lesson-plans to make the information available for classroom use.

MOTOR TRUCKS HAUL EXPRESS TO COAST FROM AKRON PLANTS

Highway freight trains are now running in the United States—running over country roads, from Akron, Ohio to Boston, Massachusetts and return, covering a distance of 1,510 miles in a week.

Thus, what all the good roads propaganda for the past 15 years has failed to achieve, the freight car shortage and a national crisis have been accomplished. The public has been forced to make greater use of its greatest transportation asset—the country road.

The truck line from Akron to Boston is being operated by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. It is called the "Akron & Boston Express." The present equipment consists of 2 White and 2 Packard Trucks, of 1-2, 3 and 5 ton capacity. It is planned to increase the equipment; and, according to J. L. Sydnor, the company's efficiency specialist, additional trucks are already ordered.

A regular schedule is maintained. M. D. Scott, manager of garage, says they are usually on time. The schedule calls for the round trip (1510 miles) in less than one week. Mr. Sydnor says that the Express companies do not deliver stuff as rapidly as that, and that the truck costs are competing with express rates. Tires are loaded for their Eastern branches and cotton fabrics and machinery for their plant in Akron is carried on the return trip. Several trips have been made to Washington, D. C., with "war orders" and good time was made.

Messrs. P. A. Seiberling, president, and P. W. Litchfield, factory manager are the instigators of the movement. Service was started last April and Mr. Sydnor hopes to continue through the winter unless stopped by too much ice and snow. There is only 28 miles of unimproved road, which bothers considerably in muddy weather. The poor condition of some of the old wooden and steel bridges is another handicap. Pneumatic tires are used exclusively, at a greater cost per tire mile, says Mr. Sydnor, but with less wear and tear on trucks and roads.

The country road is at last coming into view as "the railroad of tomorrow."

FOUR WEEKS. IN HOSPITAL

No Relief—Mrs. Brown Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio.—"For years I suffered so sometimes it seemed as though I could not stand it any longer. It was all in my lower organs. At times I could hardly walk, for if I stepped on a little stone I would almost faint. One day I did faint and my husband was sent for and the doctor came. I was taken to the hospital and stayed four weeks but when I came home I would faint just the same and had the same pains."

A friend who is a nurse asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it that very day for I was suffering a great deal. It has already done me more good than the hospital. To anyone who is suffering as I was advice is to stop in the first drug-store and get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before you go home."

CORN SUGAR ONE OF MANY BY PRODUCTS OF COMMON GRAIN

Corn sugar, a supply of which will be placed on sale here Saturday to relieve the sugar shortage, is one of the several by-products of Indian corn, with which few people are familiar. In appearance it looks like what used to be called "pinhead oatmeal." It is about that color and is in small particles the size of a pinhead.

Among the other products of corn are cornstarch, gloss starch, and oil, the latter a comparatively new discovery. It is used for cooking purposes, and in salad dressings and is said to have a high food value.

F. E. Riegger, discussing the value of corn sugar declared that it could be used in any recipe where cane sugar is called for increasing the amount used. It has about 75 per cent of the strength of cane sugar.

The Corn Products Refining company, New York, has issued a recipe book with more than 100 recipes for bread and pastry, none of which use cane sugar. Mr. Riegger says one of the books will be sent to any housewife upon application.

William H. Edwards, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards was born at Homer, Nov. 12, 1876, and died at his home in Columbus, Nov. 7th, aged 40 years, 11 months and 26 days. He leaves to mourn his loss a loving wife, his father and mother and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Corwin of Spryia and Dora Edwards at home, besides a host of relatives and friends. Will Edwards was united in marriage to Miss Johanna Selback, July 3, 1906. No children were born to this union.

Mr. Edwards for a number of years made his home at Utica, O., where he was engaged in the meat business at different times. Later he moved to Newark, engaging in the same business, and then moved to Columbus where he had been employed for the past four years with the Dieter company. Mr. Edwards has been ailing for the past two years, but only the past three months had he become seriously ill. Mr. Edwards was operated upon on the 20th and 24th of October, which proved fatal. Funeral services were held in the M. E. church at Homer Saturday afternoon. Rev. Charles Mason of Delaware, officiating, and interment was made in the Homer cemetery.

TRACE DISEASE TO CONSTIPATION

One of the points on which different schools of medicine practically agree is that about 95% of all human disease is directly traceable to intestinal putrefaction of stomach waste due to inactivity of the bowels, or constipation. The eliminative process is an essential factor in digestion and on its proper functioning depends the welfare of the entire system.

Constipation is a condition that should never be neglected. As soon as the bowels evidence the slightest disposition to slow up, a mild laxative should be taken. The combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle, is highly recommended as a corrective, acting gently, in an easy, natural way, without griping or other pain or discomfort. A trial bottle of this excellent remedy is being distributed, free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 486 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

LATEST WEAPON AGAINST THE U-BOAT IS THE DEATH DEALING DEPTH BOMB

Depth bomb on board American destroyer in British waters.

All the American destroyers now patrolling the North sea carry depth bombs as a weapon against the German submarine. These bombs are discharged into the sea at a point where the submarine was last seen on the surface, and when they explode some distance beneath the surface a column of wreckage filled water signifies a hit has been made, while clear water is an unmistakable sign that the bomb has missed its mark.

RAILROAD MAN TELLS OF NECESSITY FOR ACTION IN AMERICA

Every one in Newark should have heard the excellent lecture delivered by W. W. Wood, personal representative of President Willard of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, who spoke at Taylor Hall on Thursday evening, illustrating the lecture with war pictures.

Mr. Wood spoke at length on "Democracy," the true meaning of the word and what it stood for in the present conflict. He put it up to the people of this country and told his audience that upon them depended the result of the conflict.

Following the conclusion of his talk on "Democracy," pictures were shown of the gathering and harvesting of wheat in this country, and of the manufacture and handling of things essential in this war. He outlined what was necessary for the people of America to do in the way of conservation and investigating loyalty and help. Then the realization of what it meant if this help was not forthcoming was brought before the audience in the showing of the battle-fronts and battle scenes in the foreign countries which have been engaged in the conflict.

The aim of the lecture and the pictures as arranged by the B. & O. to arouse the people of the country to the necessity of action, and to instruct them in the way in which they can most ably assist.

A Wonderful Ointment Is Gingerole

The Gingerole Co. For the enclosed stamps kindly send to my address Gingerole. It is a wonderful ointment. I have used it with splendid success and am advertising it to my many friends.

Also send me a number of leaflets to give to my pupils to take home.

Sister M. Agatha, O. S. B., St. Doniface Convent, Hannet, Pa., Via Erie, R. F. D., No. 7.

For 25 cents you can get a big package of GINGEROLE and druggists will tell you that it is not better than any plaster, liniment or poultice you ever used, money back. There surely is nothing so good on earth for sprains, strains, bruises, bunions, callouses, chilblains or trosted feet. Just rub it on; it will not blister.

GINGEROLE absorbs instantly, is very penetrating and that's why it only takes a few minutes to get rid of earache, headache, toothache, backache and neuralgia.

GINGEROLE is for sale and recommended by Evans' Drug Store and all first class druggists. (Adv.)

NEW DISCOVERY FOR ECZEMA

Doctors Having Great Success with Amolox

This remarkable letter, coming from a prominent physician engaged in active practice for over 25 years, proves the merit of this wonderful new Remedy.

I have used Amolox in four different cases of chronic skin diseases, with excellent results. All showed marked improvement from the start. Two apparently are cured, the skin being free from scales and redness, and perfectly normal.

I consider Amolox a Remedy of rare merit. I know of nothing in the modern text-books that equals it in therapeutic value.

Very truly yours, C. R. JUSTICE, M. D., Main Street, Poland, O.

Amolox Ointment alone will quickly banish pimples, blackheads and take out all redness of the skin and cure most forms of skin disease. Bad, chronic cases of Eczema, Psoriasis, Tetter, that have lasted for years, yield more quickly when both ointment and liquid are used. Trial size 50c. T. J. Evans' Drug Store, of Newark, guarantees Amolox, and will refund the money if it fails to give satisfaction.

This Little Movie Favorite Is of the "Golden Aureole" Type

Lillian Gish, Quaint, Dainty and Piquant, Is Prettiest of the Blondes in Picture World

She Plays Part of the Northern Heroine In "The Birth of a Nation"

MUCH of the tenderly poetic appeal of "The Birth of a Nation" is due to the subtle acting of Miss Lillian Gish in the part of Elsie Stoneman, the Northern heroine. Miss Gish is a little creature of the "golden aureole" blond type, which makes for photographic beauty. She is singularly graceful, and her features never lose their piquancy. Her eyes before the camera are singularly expressive, and her acting conveys sincerity as well as true feminine charm.

Perhaps the most poetical scene of the entire drama is the one in which she and Henry Walthall, as her Southern lover, pour out their hearts to each other through the agency of the ancient symbol of Venus, goddess of romance, the dove. Not daring, at this point in their courtship to kiss each other, they lavish their affections alternately on the nesting bird. Another scene in which Miss Gish displays her exquisite charm is the one in which she plays with a kitten with such grace and caressing meaning that the audience invariably experiences a delightful thrill of sympathy.

Miss Gish is sharply contrasted in "The Birth of a Nation" with the beautiful brunette, Miss Miriam Cooper, who plays the Southern heroine. The little Northern heroine is of Northern birth, just as Miss Cooper is a Southerner, her native State being Ohio. For a time in her early girlhood she and her sister Dorothy, also famous in the moving picture world, lived in Missouri with their mother.

Miss Gish, when a mere child, won fame on the stage as a dancer and became a member of the ballet in one of Sarah Bernhardt's productions. She was introduced to D. W. Griffith, producer of "The Birth of a Nation," by Mary Pickford. Mr. Griffith instantly recognized her talent and rapidly promoted her in picture after picture, until he finally cast her in her present role of the Northern heroine in "The Birth of a Nation."

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE AUDITORIUM.
Tonight and Tomorrow.
Miss Edna Goodrich, who played Neil Graham in "The Genius and the Model," and "Phyllis in the White House," Twenty-one, again demonstrates her genius for American girl types in a new Mutual picture production, "A Daughter of Maryland."
Miss Goodrich has the happy faculty of knowing her own kind and being able to portray a girl character convincingly. This gift has been emphasized in the young star's motion picture offerings, in each of which she has been cast as an American girl of distinctly different type.
"A Daughter of Maryland" is a pretty little love romance of the south with a charming southern setting and an atmosphere of southern sentiment. Miss Goodrich is thoroughly delightful as "Becky," the wild daughter of old Squire Treadway. It is one of her best characterizations.

SUNDAY.
Douglas Fairbanks' celebrated character of the Lamb will be seen in the wilds of northern Mexico in "The Fighting Trail," a picture drama soon to be played in this city. In this five-part Griffith supervised drama the Lamb is called to the western wilds by the coldness of his sweetheart. He is more than a match for his Indian foes and emerges out of the struggle with credit to his blooded Americanism. It goes without saying that on his return to civilization, his sweetheart changes her mind and answers "yes."

GRAND.
"Should William Duncan, hero of Greater Vitaphone's big serial, "The Fighting Trail," ever elect to quit the screens he could get a job anywhere as a straight out-and-out strong man. His feats of daring and muscle are marveled at throughout the moving picture world, outside of Vitaphone, and none exceeds in sheer grit and brawn that in which he holds in his two hands and prevents from plunging into a mountain chasm, a suspension bridge, constructed of rope and limbs and on which are Miss Carol Holloway, his co-star, and four men, outlaws.
The nerve-racking scene in the ninth episode is only one of a score in which the outlaws nearly murder the young mining engineer and his bride in an effort to close a mine supplying explosives for the allies in "The Fighting Trail." Greater Vitaphone's wonderful serial adventure drama is the best of the Sierra Nevada mountains and which will appear in the Grand theater on Saturday.

AUDITORIUM.
The Birth of a Nation.
Art is long, says the poet, and outlasts thrones or empires. Occasional, however, old art ideals sway and to come to their fall, whilst a daring revolution in the theatre and cinema has swept the world. This is exactly what David Wark Griffith, foremost of directors, is believed by many critics to have done in his production of his magnum opus, "The Birth of a Nation," which will be seen at the Auditorium theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 12-13-14.

Griffith had an idea that oral speech could be eliminated in great drama. He saw the absence of voices, by symphonic musical score which fits the action like a garment. Result: a new kind of grand opera—motion picture plus music plus mechanical effects—it bids fair to surpass the achievements of the dramatic stage on the one hand and the most pretentious works of operatic composers on the other.
The director put on "The Birth of a Nation" as no other filmed play—not even "Cabaret" or "The Sign of the Cross." He used half of a great State for his locale; 150 years of American history as his subject; 18,000 people as his actors; 300 riders and steeds as his cavalry; 5000 scenes instead of a few scores or a few hundred. His work dwarfed the old-fashioned stage art to such pettiness that many are wondering whether the so-called "indoor" drama is not doomed to long and possibly total eclipse.

"The Birth of a Nation" is an inspiring story of romance, love and patriotism, culminating in the times that tried men's souls, the times of Civil War and Reconstruction. Suggested by Thomas Dixon's "The Clansman," it covers a far wider scope and imparts a vastly greater thrill. New York, Chicago, Boston, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and elsewhere for many months the theaters where it was being simultaneously played.

For the first time in theatrical history a motion picture is being presented as a regular attraction at regular prices in regular first-class playhouses. The success speaks for itself. The Griffith drama comes here with baggage equipment of two sixty foot cars, a complete staff including mechanical experts and stage crew, and a large symphonic orchestra regularly carried on tour—a company of fifty people altogether.
Mail orders are now being received. Box office opens Tuesday next.

Poppy.
Kept prisoner in a magnificent home in South Africa, a young woman wanders out into the garden on a moonlight night. A young man, stricken with jungle fever and half delirious, eludes his servants, and in his aimless roaming of the streets, he comes into the rear of the gate of which has been inadvertently left unlocked. The two fall in love at sight, and part after one ecstatic hour, not learning each other's names. The man is taken back to his bed, and for weeks is unconscious, in his terrific fight for life. When he recovers, the vision of the girl in his garden seems only a part of his delirium. This is one of the several important situations in "Poppy," a big Selznick-Pictures production which will be the feature attraction at the Auditorium theatre today and tomorrow.

The star of this photodrama is Miss Norma Talmadge, whose recent successes, "Panthea" and "The Law of Compensation," have placed her in the front rank of screen favorites.
A Rich Man's Plaything.
Valeska Suratt, noted for her wonderful display of gowns is the Sunday attraction at the Auditorium.
"A Rich Man's Plaything" is the story of a humble country girl who is thrown into the life of a financier, who to escape the city life and people he has come to hate, goes to work in one of his oyster canneries where the girl works.
Although this man loves the girl he is haunted by a fear that if she by marrying him is placed in the atmosphere of wealth she will become like other wealthy women he has known.
To satisfy himself on this point he puts her to a test, a cruel, unjustified test. It makes her a mere puppet, a plaything in his hands.
When the girl discovers the test—what she was a victim of—she goes to the man. But then—he sees the base-ness of his deed and repents. She, for she really loves this powerful man, forgives him.

This feature is shown at the Auditorium Sunday. A most pleasing comedy will also be seen.

Auditorium Notes.
Robert Cummings, despite his husky appearance in Wm. Fox's "A Rich Man's Plaything," is not an ex-pugilist. He is an actor of long standing. However, he puts up a lively scrap with Edward Martin in the film which makes the ordinary screen battle look like a game of tennis. It is seen at the Auditorium Sunday.
Clancy, lively young second advance man with "The Birth of a Nation" is in town looking after the billing of his attraction that is to be seen at the Auditorium three days beginning next Thursday. Mr. Clancy is one of the best billers in the country. The life of Joan of Arc, the sainted savior of France. This is one of the most gigantic film spectacles ever conceived by the human brain. It is that of a page from history, it stands out like a cameo carved from the ivory of living in the great diadem of the screen.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Frances Haynes.
Mrs. Frances Haynes, aged 73 years, was born in Granville, November 13, 1844 and died November 11, 1917, her husband preceding her in death, February 15, 1916.

In 1862 she was united in marriage to Serino Haynes and to that union was born six children, five of whom are living, one son Frederick having died January 26, 1889. Her early married life was spent on a farm near Union Station, but for the past twenty-five years has lived in Granville. The deceased, united with the Baptist church soon after coming to Granville and has been a faithful member until the time of her death. Those living to mourn the death of a kind mother and sister are two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Goff of Newark, and Mrs. Martin Wilson of near Hebron, three sons, Ace of Newark, Ora of Dayton and Arthur of Springfield, one sister, Mrs. Harriett Baker of Granville, one brother, Henry Ashton of Newark, and a number of grandchildren. She was a devoted wife and mother, kind to all and a true Christian. Her cheerful and loving ways, always thoughtful of others, will be recorded in the minds of all who knew her and loved her. By her good Christian life we are well assured she has gone home where peace and rest abide with her. Funeral services were held at the home, November 13, conducted by Rev. Millard Brelsford, assisted by Rev. C. N. Hartford. Interment was made in Maple Grove cemetery.

Mrs. L. B. Wing.
The news of the passing of Mrs. Mary Mayhew Wing was received here yesterday not only with profound sorrow, but with the sense of shock that accompanies an unforeseen calamity. It had been but a few days since her old friends had been privileged to extend to her the welcome they so dearly loved to give, and it seemed impossible of belief that her cheery goodbye as she left for her home in Columbus was an eternal farewell.

When she came here, a youthful bride, in 1855, she immediately, by the charm and strength of her personality, drew about her a large and devoted circle of friends, and from that time until the death of her husband, Mr. Lucius B. Wing, in 1902, when she removed to Columbus, she was closely identified with everything that was best and noblest in this community. There was no friend like her, no soul so indomitable and gay. As she stepped blithely down the long avenue of years, their shadows fell softly upon her, and the spirit of her youth was not darkened. Companionable alike to old and young, hers was always a welcome presence, and from the little child to whom she was an affectionate aunt, up through the ranks of her mature friends, there will be a sense of bereavement and a sad conviction that another precious gem has dropped away from "life's shining circle."

It was through her initiative that the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was established here and she was its first Regent. Mary Mayhew was born in Charlestown, Massachusetts, March 23, 1834, and was married in 1855 to Mr. Lucius B. Wing. Three children were born to them, one of whom died in infancy. Those surviving are Mr. Charles M. Wing and Mrs. Charles R. Shields, both of Columbus. There are also eleven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. The death of Mrs. Wing occurred Thursday morning at 11:30 o'clock, after a short illness of pneumonia at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles R. Shields. The body will be brought to Newark and funeral services will be held at Trinity church Saturday afternoon, November 17th, at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Harriet Ballou.
Mrs. Harriet Ballou, wife of the late Dr. Leander Taft Ballou, died Thursday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Smith in Cleveland. She had been a failing health, due to old age, for a long time; recently she suffered a fractured arm and hip in a severe fall. Mrs. Ballou was, before her marriage in 1845, Harriet Charlott of Zanesville. She lived for many years in Cumberland, O., and in Newark, where her husband practiced medicine until his death November 2, 1874. She is survived by three daughters—Mrs. F. A. Collins, Akron, O.; Mrs. Francis J. Cole, Baltimore, Md.; and Mrs. W. C. Smith, Cleveland. Three children died in their early years, and one son—Stanley F. Ballou—died several years ago. The body will be brought to Newark for interment in Cedar Hill cemetery.

John H. Loveless.
John H. Loveless, aged 78, a Civil war veteran and one of the best known residents of Muskingum county, died at his home near Black Run Thursday morning. Mr. Loveless served as a musician in the 122nd Ohio Volunteer Infantry under the command of the late Judge Ball. Mr. Loveless has resided in Muskingum county throughout his entire life and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He leaves the following children: Dr. C. J. Loveless of Granville, Wilbur Loveless and Miss Hattie Loveless of the home. The funeral services will be held from the home at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Kemper.

William A. McFarland.
William A. McFarland died at the state hospital, Columbus, Thursday, aged 59 years 6 months and 4 days. He is survived by two brothers—H. H. McFarland, Springfield; J. C. McFarland, Newark; and one son, J. W. McFarland, Co. 12, 2nd Regt. 1st Port Sheridan, Chicago. Mr. McFarland was for years foreman of the John Swisher cigar factory. The funeral arrangements have not been made yet.

This is a mighty changeable climate, but you can't give a fellow a tip on the weather by telling him to keep the change.

BRITAIN'S CHIEF WOMAN OFFICER HEADS WOMEN BEHIND THE LINES

Mrs. Chalmers Watson, M. D.

The highest rank to be conferred upon any woman officer in the British army is that of Mrs. Chalmers Watson, M. D., who has just been appointed chief controller of the women's army auxiliary corps. She has command over thousands of women working behind the fighting lines in France. Mrs. Watson is a sister of Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty, and Sir A. C. Watson, M. D., who has just been appointed chief controller of the women's army auxiliary corps. She has command over thousands of women working behind the fighting lines in France.

GRANVILLE

(Special to The Advocate.)
Granville, Nov. 16.—Only a partial report from the Y. M. C. A. war-torn canvassers was made last night. Granville's share is $2,000—town and township—but there are no apprehensions that the quota will not be raised, even over-subscribed, so generous has been the response of this community to every call of the nation.

The Granville Library Board acknowledges gifts of books and magazines which made it possible to send five boxes to the war library. The following contributions were made: 14 books, Dr. C. J. Baldwin; 13, Miss Clara Sheldon; 10, Mrs. John Geach; 5, Rev. C. E. Stanton; 11, Dr. Daniel E. Rogers; 3, William Obitts; 8, E. E. Hopkins; 9, Mrs. Fred Seymour; 14, Prof. W. A. Chamberlin; 2, Mrs. Eugene Wendell; 1, E. J. Dorsey. Magazines were sent by Charles Deeds, Miss Charlotte Clark, Mrs. R. S. Colwell, Mrs. J. A. Huston, Mrs. Eugene Pendleton, Mrs. Frank Rogers, Miss Caroline Stevens, Rev. Thomas Moody, Mrs. J. M. Lockhart, John Upham. The librarian, Miss Chamberlin, in her monthly report, acknowledges receipt of generous donations of books for the library, from Benj. Woodbury, Mrs. C. B. Slack and Dr. E. P. Cook.

The program for the patriotic concert to be given in the Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening, Nov. 20, by the children of the public schools, is before the public and commends itself to all patriots, who love music and who love children. The election of officers for the Eastern Star which was held last week, resulted as follows: Worthy Matron, Mrs. Cora B. Everett; Worthy Patron, Joe S. Rhodes; Associate Matron, Mrs. Lulu S. McGraw; Conductress, Mrs. Maud Montgomery; Secretary, Miss Gertrude Carpenter; Treasurer, Mrs. May F. Geach; Trustee for 3 years, T. G. Baker. Installation of officers, December 14.

THE COURTS

Common Pleas Notes.
In the case of the State vs. James Drake, indicted for failure to provide for minor children, the defendant pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to jail for one year. The court suspended the sentence upon condition that defendant pays for the support of the children $15 per month. For trial Friday: State vs. John Weeks and State vs. Albert Giblin. John G. Case vs. Eber Mitchell, et al. Appraisement of the real estate confirmed. The plaintiff, John G. Case, elects to take the property at the appraisement. The sale was confirmed and deed ordered made to plaintiff.

William H. Koch vs. L. H. Bounds. A suit brought for partition of real estate. Since the suit was brought plaintiff has died and the devisees were made parties. The land has been sold and the case is ready for confirmation of the sale and distribution of the proceeds. Bryant L. Hawke, Administrator of the plaintiff, William H. Koch, was made a party, requiring him to set up what claim, if any, he has against the proceeds from the sale of the land to settle the estate.

To Eliminate Crossings.
County Commissioners J. E. McCracken, C. D. Lake and C. B. But are engaged today in viewing the petition for the elimination of the first two crossings of the B. and O. railroad north of the corporation line, and also for the location of a road that will eliminate the two crossings at St. Louisville, giving a road direct to Utica from this city without the necessity of crossing a railroad track.

Marriage Licenses.
Samuel E. Loyd, a railroad switchman of Columbus, and Mrs. Della McCoy of this city. Rev. L. C. Sparks named to officiate.

Justice Scott's Court.
A. H. Smith and Leo O'Neil of East Newark were brought into the justice court of Fletcher S. Scott on an affidavit subscribed to by Lillian Cahill, who charged them with assault and battery. The men pleaded guilty and were each assessed $5 and the costs.

Hearing Monday.
In the case of the State of Ohio vs. Pete China, charged in an affidavit subscribed to by Marion Marion with assault with intent to kill, the hearing was set for Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock by Justice Fletcher S. Scott before whom it will be tried.

FACE PEELING HABIT BECOMING FASHIONABLE

Women of fashion and refinement in this country as in Europe seem to have been acquiring the habit of peeling their faces, depending less and less upon cosmetic lotions. It does seem a lot sorer to just peel off the worn-out skin when it loses its youthful color and appearance, now that this can be done so easily, safely, painlessly and economically. There's no more getting muddled with any drug store can ounce will do, since its virtues have become generally known here, and there's no trouble in using it—just as you use cold cream, applying at night, washing it off next morning. The new under-skin which gradually appears is soft, soothed and beautifully white, radiant with girlish loveliness. Any surface trouble like chaps, wrinkles, and even low patches, freckles, etc., vanishes of course with the discarded cuticle. Advertisement.

Milady's Boudoir

Overtaxed Nerves.
The most celebrated nerve specialist in the world cannot restore over-taxed nerves without some material assistance from his patient. He may prescribe a regimen calculated to relieve the high tension, by building up the general health and eliminating worry, excitement and undue haste, but the sufferer must make an effort independent of medical aid. Of first assistance in getting control of the wayward nerves is will power. Not a weak, enervated force, but a strong efficient one that makes for untiring perseverance. Many people possess will power that exercises remarkably well in some directions, especially when it concerns their own desires, but when the will operates directly upon themselves, it relaxes and becomes more of an enemy than a friend.

The monotonous grind of daily work, whether it be directed in the home or office, should be broken by periods of physical relaxation and mental exhilaration. The ideal day is separated into three parts, eight hours for sleep, eight hours for work and the rest for play. Staying at home with but few outside influences and interests, dulls the brain and makes one less companionable for people who enjoy a certain amount of pleasure derived from outside sources. If a small person must take a dose of castor oil, and it is essential that the bowels be kept free in a growing child, it may be given through the skin. Put a teaspoon or more into the skin over the bowels or abdomen. It will do its work just as well and will not subject the child to the nauseating taste.

Our Boys and Girls

I do not think a growing boy ought to eat more than once a day. He will find plenty of other things to eat, such as soups, especially thick ones which are very strengthening, cereals, vegetables, milk, etc. The midday meal is the best time to serve meat if you are going to do so only once a day. But this may not prove satisfactory to your family, for many have the habit of a heavy meal in the evening when father comes home. In such a case, of course, let the child eat his meat at the evening dinner.

If a small person must take a dose of castor oil, and it is essential that the bowels be kept free in a growing child, it may be given through the skin. Put a teaspoon or more into the skin over the bowels or abdomen. It will do its work just as well and will not subject the child to the nauseating taste.

"When you suffer from indigestion," said the sympathetic friend, "remember that Worcestershire sauce is good for the liver." "But I never eat liver," growled the dyspeptic.

Tommy's Mother: "What would you do if you should have everything you wished for?" Tommy: "I guess I'd begin to wish all over again."

New Coats That Are Different

AWAIT YOUR APPROVAL TOMORROW

Our New York office sends us the newest coats as soon as they are designed and made, consequently our showing is far above the average as it fairly breathes the spirit of style-newness and individuality. Here one finds garments that are weeks ahead of those shown elsewhere yet prices are generally lower. Don't you think it would be wisdom on your part to view these new styles before selecting your coat. Comparison, you know, is the true test of value.

RESTAURANT SERVES SUGARLESS DINNER; CITY WITHOUT SUGAR

There is no sugar in Newark and no immediate prospects of the situation being changed today. For the first time in its history the Murphy grocery, West Main street, is without the staple article. The same is true of nearly all grocers. Hundreds of calls are received daily and the same answer is given: "We have the promise of some just as soon as the jobber can reach us."

The jobber, dependant upon the wholesaler and manufacturer, is up against it, as well as the retailer. He, too, has been promised sugar, but with no idea as to when it will be delivered. A number of local bakeries have discontinued the making of sweet cakes owing to the fact that they delayed laying in a supply of sugar.

Zanesville has promised several local grocers a few bags of a hundred pounds each for Saturday trade. It probably will be sold in two-pound lots to the first who call.

The shipment of 10,000 pounds of corn-sugar from the G. W. Bobb company, Columbus, will help relieve the shortage. It is understood that this will be sold at nine cents per pound.

Tuesday is to be a meatless day, Wednesday wheatless day, and from the present indication more than one day will be "sugarless." One of the prominent downtown restaurants was entirely out of sugar this noon, but the proprietor said that he had been promised a small delivery of sugar later today.

BOTTLE COMPANY'S CHECK FOR $500 IS ADDED TO Y FUND

Pledges for the Y. M. C. A. War Fund continue to come into the office of the campaign manager, G. G. Barber, at the Chamber of Commerce rooms and team workers are still receiving subscriptions and the total will undoubtedly reach $17,500, which is $2,500 more than the city's quota of the $35,000,000 fund for use in war work.

One subscription of $500 was made by the American Bottle company and another of $100 by E. H. Everett, formerly of this city, and they were credited to the divisions through whose instrumentality they were secured. This place, Chairman Carl Dayton's division in third place.

The revised standings of the divisions will be announced tomorrow, together with the final totals. In the meantime organization work in the country will proceed and Licking county will come under the wire early next week.

ACTOR JAY QUIGLEY, WELL KNOWN HERE, LEAPS INTO RIVER

Jay Quigley, 54, well-known actor, committed suicide in Columbus yesterday when he leaped from the Broad street bridge into the Scioto river.

Quigley, at one time, managed the Seller Garden—a vaudeville garden—in Newark about 25 years ago. He was then known as James Quigley, and shortly afterwards went on the road with a minstrel show. Owing to the fact that there were many James Quigleys, he changed his name to "Jay" Quigley. He was a brother of the late "Doc" Quigley of minstrel fame, and last year played a prominent part with Montgomery & Stone in "Chin-Chin."

He has been a patient at the state hospital, Columbus, since September 1, strain from stage-work and worry over the fact that his wife was an invalid, effected his mind.

LANCASTER TEACHERS VISIT LOCAL SCHOOLS

A large party of Lancaster and Granville school teachers are in the city today visiting the different school buildings and viewing the work in the different rooms. In the party from Lancaster are 70 teachers, and 12 from Granville, they represent both high school and grade teachers.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE GIVEN FOR WOOL THEFT

In common pleas court in the case of the State of Ohio vs. John Weeks, jointly indicted with Douglas Worley for burglary and larceny, the defendant, Weeks, changed his former plea of not guilty to guilty. The state charged that the defendants entered a barn of Mr. Weekley, east of St. Louisville, and carried away 17 fleeces of wool, thereafter attempting to sell them.

Worley is now in the penitentiary upon a charge of shooting his wife with intent to kill her.

Taking the circumstances of the case, and this being his first offense, the court sentenced Weeks to the penitentiary, but suspended the sentence as long as he conducts himself as a good citizen, transgresses no law of the state, and refrains from the use of intoxicating liquors. State of Ohio vs. Albert Giblin, indicted for failure to provide for a pregnant woman. The defendant was ordered to pay $15 per month and the case was continued upon condition that the defendant make the payments promptly.

Standard Bearers. The Standard Bearers of the First M. E. church met Wednesday evening in the social rooms of the church, and after a business session a social hour was enjoyed.

FATIGUE NEARLY OVERCOMES WOMAN

"Bringing up several children in the right way and cares of home brought me to the verge of nervous prostration," says a well known woman. "Fearing that I might become ill and have to give up housework and the care of my little ones, created a nightmare that was ever before me. I happened to mention my affliction to one of my neighbors and she advised me to procure some Phosphated Iron. A day or two later when I was feeling unusually miserable I sent my daughter to the drug store for a box of the capsules and after ten days' treatment I felt like a different person altogether. I sleep well at night, something I hadn't done in months before; my appetite is good and in fact what formerly seemed like mountains of work in my home is now more like play. An aunt of mine living over East has been taking Phosphated Iron with equally gratifying results."

Phosphated Iron is put up in capsules only. In this locality it can be obtained at Evans' Drug Store and leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement

CATARRH IS THE SCOURGE OF THE NATION

"Catarrh is Directly Caused by Weak Nerves," So Declares Noted Scientist.

Catarrh is an acute or sub-acute inflammation of the mucous surface of the body. The nasal cavity being more liable to become affected than other parts of the body. It does not always commence in the nasal cavity but is quite apt to. The mucous linings of any and all the organs of the body (the nose, throat, ear passages, stomach, bowels) are all subject to this disease.

Catarrh often commences in the stomach or bowels. The mucous membranes or linings of the stomach becomes inflamed, simply because the nerves have become weakened through worry, or sickness, and the food distresses or is repulsive.

Nerv-Vec, the king of nerve medicines, which is now being sold at the Crayton Drug Store, No. 3 Park Place, is nature's own remedy for a broken and weakened nervous system.

Nerv-Vec is especially intended for dyspepsia, indigestion, nervousness, sleepless, sick or nervous headaches, backaches, cold feet or hands, melancholy, despondency, and a general run down condition of the system. It is the choicest remedy for feeble, fretted nerves.

Every day now Nerv-Vec can be obtained at the Crayton Drug Store, where Mr. Scott or his assistants explain the nature of the remarkable remedy and what may be expected from its use. (Adv't.)

ENEMY LINES ARE CLOSE TOGETHER ALONG THE PIAVE

an and Italian batteries were located. The cannonade had now become heavy and continuous, and bursts of smoke from the hills on the other side of the Piave marked the line of the enemy's batteries.

The route now turned along the west bank of the river where long lines of peaceful villages had been transformed suddenly by terror of the enemy bombardment. The townspeople were hastily gathering their belongings together and the women and children seemed terrified as they hurried away from the sound of the guns. The party passed groups of "arditi," which indicated that the fighting ground was getting very near. Arditi is the Italian word for Ardent and they are men who volunteer to risk every thing and to push to the extreme front. Their shirt fronts were open, although it was a cold autumn day and they looked the dare devils that they are known to be.

Houses all along the road had been transformed into temporary field hospitals and marked with improvised signs. Soldiers near one house were carrying flowers, which looked like gaiety, but other soldiers who followed with a funeral wraith made it look more like death. There were ambulances everywhere along the road but no sign of wounded. At one village regiments of Alpini were waiting to go forward. Batteries and field guns were also moving down to the river with "evergreen" boughs screening the guns. The whole western bank of the Piave is lined with beautiful villas and extensive parks filled with statuary.

The party had now reached a village three miles from the Piave line and the shelling was continuous. As the army automobile came up the road to the railway station a shell burst squarely in the road 100 yards ahead.

"They are shelling the road," said the escort as he wheeled the automobile behind the station where groups of soldiers were crouching in the doorways. One of the fragments of this shell came whizzing towards the station and buried itself in the wall.

A soldier led the way through a thicket up the side of a hill where an Italian observation post had been established and from this point of vantage the correspondent looked out on the long lines on both banks of the river. The town of Vidor now held by General von Buelow's German troops was just across the river from the point of observation and a big German sausage balloon was insolently hanging over the town overlooking the work of Italian batteries.

The Campanile of Vidor was distinctly visible and with field glasses several men could be seen, moving about the outskirts of the town. How this could be with such shelling going on was difficult to understand. The advantage the Germans had at this point was evident, as the hills rose back of the town, giving them a screen for their batteries. These played down on the Italians in the plain on the eastern side of the river.

Again the route turned southward along the river. At one point the party passed one of those heroic regiments of cavalry which acted as a rear guard while the main Italian army retired to the western bank of the Piave. The cavalry horses had been tethered in a vineyard. All the vineyards, haystacks and gathered crops are being sacrificed in the present emergency. Nearing the river the roads were full of frightened people hurrying away with their pitiful families on the top of household goods carried on carts and wagons.

The actual river bank was now near and the escort gave a special warning of rifle and machine gun fire in addition to the shrapnel from the batteries. The town of Nervesa, on the river's edge, was deserted completely as the party passed down to the wharves, an idle silent town had a sepulchral aspect.

The rear of artillery was now supplemented by the rattle of "coffee mills" as the soldiers call the machine guns and the crack of rifle fire.

Officers led the way, creeping in single file into an old warehouse standing on the edge of the Piave river. It had already been a target and the side towards the river was sieved with machine gun fire. There were two huge shell holes. The great wine vats of the warehouse, still full, had been abandoned in the hasty flight of the villagers. The river at this point is extremely narrow, with a long shoal through the middle offering the enemy handy means of getting half way over. The escorting officer said both channels measured a total of 800 metres or about half a mile, but the little stream lying at the foot of the observers did not look half as wide as the Delaware river.

It seemed narrower than the Chicago canal as it passes through the city. It appeared trifling as a military barrier, even with the best Italian support. Its narrowness is evident from the fact that those in the party were compelled to speak in whispers for fear of being heard by the enemy on the other side of the stream.

From the upper window of the warehouse a long view up and down the river could be had. The Italian front line ran below the window and the men could be seen crouching back of the defenses, with rifles ready for the enemy just across the narrow belt of water. The wrecked Briola bridge lay off to the right. It was a link in the main highway running east and west across Venetia, and was a stately structure of masonry and concrete. The spans on both sides of the river still stood but the middle arches are heaps of ruins which showed above the level of the river. Directly in front was the castle of Count Callini, an Austrian nobleman living in Italy, who now unexpectedly finds himself among his countrymen.

Further down the river a huge cloud of smoke drifted over Zenson where the enemy had succeeded in making his first crossing and was now pressed back against the river bank. The fighting at this point had been desperate all through the day. The enemy at first occupied the village with a large number of machine guns. There the Italians attacked them with artillery fire, backed up by infantry rushes. The fighting became desperate with hand to hand struggles, even with knives. The enemy had the advantage of position as the river makes a sharp bend so that his positions formed an arc on each side of the bend. But with all their disadvantages the Italians had steadily forced them back to the chord across the bend so that they now occupied less than three quarters of an acre and were hemmed in on all sides. The artillery was concentrating on this enemy party and it was believed it would be forced back across the river or thrown into the water.

On the way back the correspondent passed through the deserted city of Treviso, where General Foch, Wilson and Cadorna held the first of the conferences at which plans for French and British co-operation with the Italians were made. The city was abandoned and silent. The town clock had stopped at 9:10 o'clock, although it was five in the afternoon when the party passed through.
